The IQAC coordinator appraised the Members that a request had come from the Training and Placement department for a soft skill trainer to assist in training the students in various soft skills like resume preparation, group discussion techniques, extempore delivery skills and personal interview skills. The training and placement department felt that our students would highly benefit if a resource person could guide and train the students on a regular basis. This would help the third-year students to get their dream placements in the best hotels and they would get a great start to their career. This would also help the second-year students to get selected in the best hotels for their internships. Thus, a soft skill trainer Mr. Graham Miranda has been hired and he is preparing students with the requisite interview skills, addressing extempore speaking, group discussion, one-on-one interviews & trade test.
